A Couple's RETREAT

An architect and an interior designer built their second home as both a creative act and as a place where they could be at their most creative

This page: Glen Oxford designed the house so that visitors first pass through the courtyard and pool area. The entry hallway, as much outside as it is in, is paved with custom-designed Cuban tiles from Villa Lagoon. Right: A dramatic oculus, topped with massive cedar beams, makes a striking architectural statement. The courtyard is furnished with teak armchairs and a coffee table from Danao. The bench is upholstered in Holland & Sherry's Genoa Blue outdoor fabric. The gas copper lanterns are from St. James Lighting.
