

FILL 'EM UP Pennoyer Newman—a firm already revered for their historically inspired cachepots, terrace pots, troughs, statuary, and seating—has introduced a clean-lined collection of bowls and boxes appropriate for the modern garden, made of lightweight, weather-resistant resin that mimics English cast stone, but are handcrafted right here in New York City. They look great in groups (even unplanted). pennoyernewman.com

CONTINUED