

A DUNE WITH A VIEW
"Fisherman's Cove," in Montauk, New York; at right are two of the property's three 1930s saltbox cottages.

Made in Montauk

Architect and interior designer Daniel Romualdez has worked for Diane von Furstenberg, Aerin Lauder, and Tory Burch, to name a few style setters, but the place everyone falls in love with is the simple, 1,730-square-foot Montauk retreat Romualdez shares with his investment-banker husband, Michael Meagher. BOB COLACELLO learns how the black sheep of a Filipino political dynasty

(and Imelda Marcos's nephew) stuck to his own vision of the good life

SALTY DOG
Jemima heads into the main cottage.

